

The 10-Point Leadership Triangle

A Dynamic Model for Mastering & Implementing the 3-Dimensions of Leadership

“Steven is a very impressive and compelling speaker with a very relevant topic. Thanks so much!”

SCOTT BURGESS, CEO,
RIVERMARK COMMUNITY CREDIT
UNION

“Thank you for the amazing presentation you gave to our staff. They are still talking about it! And better yet, they quote examples from your talk and integrate it into their workday!”

PENNY CARTER & JULIE HEIMARK,
PROVIDENCE HOME HEALTH SERVICES

“Steven does an excellent job of delivering the message all while inspiring the audience. One of his best attributes is his ability to listen and ascertain what it is we want our audience to come away with. He’s very versatile on the subjects of leadership and communication.”

LORI LITTLE, MARKETING &
COMMUNICATIONS DIRECTOR,
OREGON LODGING ASSOCIATION

This program stands alone as a keynote, round-table or workshop, or pairs well with any of the other topics as a companion workshop; it is highly adaptable to a wide range of themes.

What if you could finish the year exceeding all your goals?

What if you could engage your team to perform at record levels?

What if you could reach the end of the year feeling happier and more successful than you have felt in years?

All it takes is Leadership! Leadership can be one of the most difficult skills to cultivate because too many people look for one-dimensional solutions to a three-dimensional problem.

Understanding the 3-Dimensions of Leadership

1st Dimension – “Height” – Leadership of Others

Most leaders live in this dimension, thinking it’s size that matters: the bigger their vision, the easier it is to see. Leaders in this dimension think, “All I need to do is paint the picture and tell others how to get there.”

2nd Dimension – “Width” – Leadership of Self

Far too many people are completely unaware that this dimension exists. Or they may get it intellectually, but not in practicality. Ask a room full of people how many of them are leaders and generally only those with a title will raise a hand. Imagine the power of change if more people stepped into the 2nd Dimension.

3rd Dimension – “Depth” – Leadership Without Authority

Traditional leaders see the value of the 1st Dimension and are innately gifted at dreaming big. The 3rd Dimension goes the other direction to state that success is found in the depth of emotional connection with the players. The 3rd Dimension is all about influence and the ability to lead, even when you have no authority, title or position to do so.

The 10-Point Leadership Triangle brings the 3-Dimensions of Leadership to life. This dynamic 3-D model allows leaders to meet people where they are and gives them a roadmap for how to move forward. With this model you can engage your team and get them clearly focused, and all heading in the same direction. It will help you gain a sense of perspective, turning the impossible into the possible. It might even have you believing in the beauty and power of your dreams once again.
